To: Local Union Presidents & Recording Secretaries (Excluding Quebec)

Greetings,

Our union has a passionate commitment to Labour Education. Through this dedication we provide our members with the skills and resources to challenge the impacts of unfair trade, aggressive employers and provide safe workplaces in our communities.

Ensuring our members are ready to take on these challenges and fight back requires a commitment to in-depth discussion of our lived experiences as workers through education. Making sure our members have well-developed critical thinking and communication skills and have the opportunity to really understand what the union is all about is why we have created the Labour Social Justice Certificate (LSJ).

The Education Department is launching our first part - Unifor Foundations starting this March 19th to 24th. The first program will focus on examining the nature of work and exploring what workers have in common today. We'll explore trade union history, how change happens, and how unions and workers have changed the nature of work to shape society today.

This pilot will run alongside the NEB Meeting happening that week as well.

We strongly encourage yourself or a designate from your local to participate in this important pilot for our Education Program, and attend this session. The registration deadline is February 5th, 2016.

Please confirm attendance by filling in the attached PEL Student Application Form and send to Carmen Tuomi by e-mail at Carmen.Tuomi@unifor.org or by fax 519-389-3845.

In solidarity,

Tim Carrie, National Representative
Unifor Education Department
